Fifth Page

Acknowledgments should be included in the fifth page .

- Sixth Page

  The Sixth page may contain an abstract of the report. The students may emphasize here their contributions. The reader/reviewer should be able to understand the gist of the work in the abstract itself, without having to go into the main body of the text. In short, the abstract should be stand alone and self explanatory of the entire work.

- Seventh Page

  In these pages the students must provide a table of contents, viz., List of tables, List of figures, List of symbols (Notations), Chapter wise contents, References etc. with starting Page Nos. of each item.

  All the above pages (from Third page to seventh page) should be numbered only in Roman numerals, of lower case and the rest of the report should have English numeral numbers.

- Number of Pages

  In case the number of pages in the thesis exceeds 100,

- Arrangements of Chapters

  The following is suggested format for arranging the Thesis matter into various chapters. However this arrangement can be changed to suit the particular Research work.

  1. Introduction
  2. Literature Survey
  3. Theoretical Analysis
  4. Experimental Investigations
  5. Experimental Results
  6. Discussion of Results
  7. Summary, Conclusion and Recommendations
     (Original Contribution to be highlighted)

8. Reference/bibliography
9. Appendices (if any)

- The Arrangement of paragraph in a Chapter

  Each topic Title in a chapter should be properly numbered for example: 2.1, 2.2 etc., (Bold and Upper case) where, the first digit represents the Chapter number, and second digit, the topic Title number.

  Sub-topic titles, if any, may be indicated as 1.1.1,1.1.2, etc.(Bold and title case) i.e .the representing the chapter, the second representing the topic title and the third representing the sub-topic title.

- Photographs and Tables:

  The photographs and tables occurring in a chapter may be serially numbered as Fig: 1.1, 1.2 etc., along with suitable CAPTION where the first digit represents the chapter, the second digit represents figure number.

  The photograph may be represented as: plate 1.1, 1.2 etc., the first representing chapter and the second representing the photograph number.

- Graphs:

  The graph should clearly indicate the points which are used for drawing the curve or curves along with error bars. The axes (X,Y and Z) should have CAPTIONS.

- Bibliography or References:

  All references should be arranged in IEEE/ASME/ASCE format.
